Kunming and the surrounding Yunnan Province are the ancestral home to large communities of minorities in China. Tibetan, Naxi, Miao, Bai are some of the ethnic groups that live in this beautiful Province, where the ancient “Tea and Horses Track” can be experienced in a spectacular journey through rice fields, fertile valleys, gorges, rivers and mountains reaching the border with the Tibet at alms 7.000 meters. The city is a modern and sunny place with no pollution and good weather all year round. It is known that Yunnan enjoys the “endless spring” and it is dubbed to be the most multidimensional region in Asia having the wild-forest where the tiger lives in the Myanmar border in the south and the tibetanborder with snow covered mountains and glaciers in the north.

Kunming is a nice city, with more economic housing rental costs: a 140 sqm. apartmentwith 3 bedrooms, 2 bathrooms and brand new is just 600 US$, in Shanghai the same would cost well over 2,500 US$.
